

Camping season is here at Cordell Hull Lake! The staff at the Resource Managers Office wants to remind everyone that even with the extravagant two-week summer vacations going on, there is still plenty of time for weekend trips close to home. Camping is one way to get the most out of a weekend and it just happens that Indian Creek Park is nearby. Although the smallest campground on the lake, Indian Creek is big on recreational opportunities. The Park can provide a peaceful weekend getaway, or an entire week away from it all. Some people like to camp in a packed campground where all sites are occupied and generator motors can be heard around the clock. On the other hand, some prefer to set up, build a campfire, and listen to the crickets all night. There is nothing wrong with either, but if you are in the second group, Indian Creek is for you! It is loaded with all the extras too. Thirty-two of the campsites have water and electric hookups, and bathhouses are located in close proximity to all sites. The campground also provides a boat ramp, beach, picnic shelter, volleyball court, playground and plenty of room for a good time. There is even an archery range nearby.

With so many people camping now, it's sometimes hard to find a place where you don't feel like you're in town.

Because of Indian Creek's size, even when full, you won't feel smothered by other campers. Also, due to the location of the campground, you'll find this is one of the few places left to camp that gives you that back to nature feeling so many of us love. But don't worry, there is plenty of security at the campground staffed with Park Attendants and patrolled by Park Rangers. In fact, checking into the campground is like checking into a clearing in the forest for the weekend. All you have to worry about is the fact that eventually you will have to go home. With that said, you are all cordially invited to check out the camping opportunities at Indian Creek Park. Pull your boat up to the shore, build a fire and just relax. Can you smell the campfire? The park is open through September 3rd. The easiest way to the park from Cookeville is by taking 70N east to Hwy 53. Turn right on Hwy 53 towards Granville. Turn right off of Hwy 53 at the Indian Creek sign and then follow the signs to the park.
